A Committee Suggests Ways of Securing Harmony.

The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America took a town by mail, and, think of it, it costs only 25 half holiday today and went on an excursion. was adopted. Senator Gorman was a spectator, but he occupied a seat on the platform and courtesy prevented his stealing away, so he made the best of it and seemed to take much interest in the statistics about poor ministers and other reports submitted. The assembly will probably take no more holidays. Next week will be a busy one, and before it is ended some questions of the gravest import to the church will have come up.

The Morning Devotional Exercises.

The commissioners did not set a very good ars, hell and the colored woman managed to escape and give an alarm. Box 219 was pulled and the fire department responded promptly. One of the first firemen to rush into the burning building was Assistant Foreman John Walsh of No. 1 company, and he received painful burns on his left hand.

The flames had spread rapidly before the firemen reached the house, and had followed the back stairway to the roof. After the arrival of the fire department the flames were soon extinguished.

Lieut. Heil was severely burned about the hands and arms, and it will perhaps be several weeks before he will recover.

He was attended by a neighboring physician until the arrival of a physician from the Naval Hospital.

The damage to the house is estimated at about $21,000 and is fully insured.

In guevotional exercises. Many of them, however, had important committee duties to attend to, and it was known the rest of the day was to be well occupied so they stole some of the half hours et aside for religious exercises beginning at 9 o'clock. When Rev. Dr. Bissell, who led the exercises, rose with his hand there were not over a score of persons in the body of the church where the commissioners set, and about an amay spectators in the gallery. Down stairs in the Sunday school room there was a throng of busy people, and the committee rooms in the Church and in neighboring houses were all scenes of little gatherings. After the first hymn was sung people began to drop in and both floor and gallery received constant recruits. Dr. Bissell then gave out a number of hymns, which were sung without music, and then read the first-eleven verses of John xv, following it with a little talk on followable with the committee on Sabbath observance have an arrived of that committee was made the order for 2:30 o'clock Monday.
